

PROGRESS ON PEGOS PROJECT

New Road Being Built Into Barstow; Pasturing Cattle on Alfalfa.

Barstow, Tex., Nov. 27.—The Pecos Valley Water Users' association of Texas is making good headway toward completing the federal government in the construction of a large storage reservoir on the Pecos river near the New Mexico line. The reservoir will supply ample water for the entire irrigated district, comprising of nine systems. These systems have a total acreage of over 120,000 acres of land now under alfalfa, and on completion of the government reservoir, the acreage will be about doubled. Inquiries from many states are arriving every day regarding the proposed improvements.

A 40-foot road from the new Pecos river bridge on section 31, block 24, H. & T. C. railway, survey, to Barstow is being graded. This road will run along the line between sections 28 and 31, on through to connect with the graded road now leading into town. As a large majority of the travel from that vicinity goes over that route, the new road will be of great advantage to farmers out that way, also for travel from Pecos through that way.

Practically all the alfalfa farms under the Barstow system are now being cut for the winter. Some 5000 head of sheep are being pastured here this year, and some 12,000 head of cows, calves and horses also. The grass on the range was killed by the recent frosts, forcing the stockmen to seek pasture. The price ranges from $1.50 to $1.75 per month, according to location. The cotton average for 1914 will be around 10 cents, according to the latest figures already received this year. This number, probably will be doubled in 1915.

Here's a Man Who Says He Killed
Grosco After Dropping Him—
A Story From Kansas City.

Says the Kansas City Times:
"I wish I hadn't killed him. I tell you, mister, it's hard to kill a human being, but shucks, what could you do? Everywhere in Texas I hear them whispering. That's the man that killed Grosco, and it bothers me. I'd like to quit."

Went Arthur Viner, of El Paso Company, a Texas Ranger, the most picturesque body of legalized fighting men on earth today, turned to his visitor for sympathy, and got it.

Autumn Viner came to town yesterday morning with Mrs. Viner and Miss Viner, aged 2 years, who played while her father told about the roundup with Pecos. Grosco's hand last August 2nd in the El Paso Mountains along the Rio Grande, and her mother's story.

"There were eight of us," said Viner, "and about twelve of them. Grosco got me in the shoulder first with a Colt. 32. All of us had dropped off our pistols and were crawling along the rocks. I finally got a line over that 25 years old, tall and lean and crowned with the sweeping 'Sutton' that indexes him at once."

QUAIL SEASON OPENS DEC. 1

Texas Hunters Will Soon
Have Chance; Deer Season
Closes in New Mexico.

The quail season in Texas will open on December 1, continuing through to March 1. While there are said to have been many infringements of the law, it is reported that there are still many birds up and down the valley and that hunting will be good in some sections for some time to come.

The wild deer season in Texas is now on, having opened on November 1. The open season will continue through to January 1. Three wild bucks in the Hunt. The wild turkey season in Texas opens on December 1 and closes March 1. Three turkeys are the limit.

Deer Season Closes.
The season for shooting deer in New Mexico, south of the 25th parallel, closed on November 25. North of that parallel it has been closed since November 2. The season for grouse also closed on November 25, but the quail season remains open to December 21. The season for wild turkey closed on November 25.

The open season for mule deer and turkey in Arizona will close on December 15, but the quail, snipe and rail season will remain open until February 1, and the duck season to April 1. E. M. Miller and W. T. Young returned last week from a hunting trip in the San Andres mountains, 30 miles west of Tularosa. They were accompanied by Mr. Peterson, of Tularosa. Some big game were seen but none in the party got a shot at a deer. The unseasonable warm weather in the mountains, the hunters believe, accounts for the scarcity of deer in the lower altitudes, and the higher altitudes were inaccessible because of the nature of the country. Plenty of small game was seen.

W. G. Gibson, with a party, hunted duck in the vicinity of Clint Friday. They had good success, the ducks being found in considerable numbers.

Ed Pennybaker was out hunting small game Sunday.

Free Fisherman Hunting.
Fred J. Feldman and Ed. Funston were hunting in the vicinity of Mesquite. They found small game plentiful and bagged the limit.

J. R. Enlow, H. U. Nell, W. H. O'Neill and George W. Sauer composed a party that was out Sunday after small game.

Saw Bobcat and Kitten.
C. C. McHugh, Sam S. Vaughan, Will Heck, Joe Apodaca and A. Solis were hunting Sunday in the vicinity of Fabens. They killed 15 rabbits. Returning home Sunday night a bobcat and her kitten were seen crossing the road in front of the machine.

VILLISTA FORCES MARCHING NORTH

Reported Lower Part of Chihuahua State Evacuated
Herrera Advancing.

Villista forces have withdrawn from lower Chihuahua state as far north as Santa Rosalia, and communication by telephone between that point and Parral has been severed, according to the latest reliable Monday forecast with Villista agents in Juarez and mining men in El Paso.

The situation south of Chihuahua city is becoming hourly more critical as a result of the reported evacuation of the lower districts before an advancing force under Luis Herrera coming up from the south along the railroad line.

Third hand reports have it that the bridge a mile north of Santa Rosalia station is about to be destroyed, and that further up in Bachimba pass impediment will be thrown in the path of a northward moving Carrancista column of troops.

Real Conditions Unknown.
Just what the real conditions are below Chihuahua city is seriously unknown at the border, either in El Paso or Juarez, but that there will be no fight is the consensus of opinion in well advised circles. That negotiations for a peaceful evacuation of Chihuahua state have progressed to that point where no fighting of any account will be ordered by chiefs of either the retreating Villista or advancing Carrancista forces is acknowledged as a foregone conclusion.

It is also denied that there is any truth in statements alleging a destruction of the line of railroad at Santa Rosalia and vicinity, in either a northerly or southerly direction.

Telegrams Fail to Arrive.
Wires expected Monday morning in reply to telegrams to Parral sent down Saturday, failed to show up as scheduled as all others have done under similar sending conditions heretofore. It is reported Villista officials said talk by telegram to Santa Rosalia Monday morning. This leaves the break in the line of communication.

Rosalia itself on along the telephone line from that point to Parral.

The Alvarado Mining company train which J. T. Baskin took to the north for the south Saturday noon, had not been heard from up to Monday noon, although repeated efforts to locate it have been made since Sunday afternoon. Just what luck Mr. Baskin has found is not known, and anxiety is expressed in some degree over his endeavor to make his way through to the concern's property in Parral.

Mr. Baskin was finally located Monday as Santa, this side of Chihuahua city.

15 EMPLOYEES OF PENOLES
MINES TO RETURN TUESDAY
Fifteen engineers and clerks of the Compania Minera de Penoles will leave Tuesday night in a special car from El Paso to Laredo, Texas, and from Laredo pass on to Monterrey, Mexico. The clerks will remain in Monterrey where the temporary office of the company will be established while the engineers will go on to Mapim, Durango, where a resumption of work on the Penoles mines will be begun.

The special car of employees will be under the direction of Henry Bornhoff, assistant general manager, who joins the party at San Antonio.

PONCE SAYS TYPEWRITERS WERE REGULARLY ENTERED
Juarez postmaster, J. Ponce, has issued a statement to the federal authorities in El Paso who seized 12 typewriters and $7,000 (Mex.) worth of Mexican revenue stamps, at the house of Mrs. de la Garza, at 210 Ross street, this city, declaring that the stamps had been entered through the United States regular customs channels for entry into this country. J. Ponce stated that the machines were shipped here to be repaired and that the stamps were to be taken to Sonora for use by a civil officer in Villa Terrenos, Chihuahua. The goods were received at Juarez from headquarters in Chihuahua city, the postmaster declared.

VILLA MAY RE- AT HERMOSILLO

Rebel Chief Has Chosen
Sonora Capital as Base of Operations Announced

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 25.—Increasing uncertainty as to the whereabouts of Gen. Villa has gradually given rise to the belief that the rebel chieftain has been successful in taking Hermosillo, as he has claimed and has forced Gen. M. M. De la Cruz toward Guaymas.

Nogales is reported quiet today, garrisoned by the Carrancista cavalry from Mexico City. The town was attacked Sunday by Villa troops of the Rodriguez command, but was successfully defended by 200 armed citizens. Nine Americans were reported to be in the town. The attacking forces were said to have burned the southern terminal of the tramway, owned by the Mexican Copper company, and also a bridge north of Nogales.

Funston and Oregon Confers.
Major Gen. Frederick Funston conferred at length Sunday with Gen. Alvaro Obregon, on the Carrancista commander's request for the extradition of Carlos Baskin, until last Thursday night, acting governor of Sonora. After the conference, Gen. Funston was wired to Nogales, where he is said to be in the case of Baskin, who crossed to the American side before the Carrancista forces of Gen. Francisco Villa in Nogales, Son.

He announced that a decision in the Baskin case would have to come from Washington.

Funston Opposes Extradition.
Randall himself expressed the hope that he would be given a safe conduct to some port of entry to either Cuba or Canada, his wife and family are at Tucson, Ariz.

Gen. Obregon's request Sunday that he be allowed to transfer his wounded Villa soldiers to Nogales, Ariz., was promptly complied with by Gen. Funston. Adequate hospital facilities had been arranged, said Obregon.

Funston Warns Approves.
That is the first act of really civilized warfare that has been brought to the attention of the Mexican side of the border, and I am especially pleased to acquiesce in the move, was Gen. Funston's comment in granting Obregon's request.

Gen. Obregon announced he would leave Nogales, Son., today with all but five of his troops, to join Gen. Matias, who started yesterday in pursuit of the Villa troops, believed to be on their way to Hermosillo, which is reported to have been selected by Villa as his new base and capital. Gen. Matias' force of 2500 men, 40 miles south of the international boundary, were proceeding slowly, they having been blocked by a work train repairing damage to the railroad.

Would Apprehend Raiders.
Gen. Funston requested Gen. Obregon's assistance in apprehending a small band of border raiders operating to the west of here. The reported desertions were brought to Gen. Funston's notice by Sheriff W. S. McKnight, who told the American commander that he feared serious trouble unless the raiders were caught.

Gen. Obregon promised to either capture the marauders or drive them across the line to be dealt with by the United States troops.

S. Troops Fired On.
United States guard reported that they were fired upon early Sunday by a small band of mounted men, which shot went wild, and the Americans did not return the fire.

The bodies of 25 Villa soldiers and civilian adherents were found by the Carrancista forces when they occupied Nogales, Son., according to a statement issued by the Mexican side today. He further stated that a captain whose name he declined to give, and four troops of the Carrancista forces were killed when the 12th infantry replied to the fire which the men under Gen. Cardenas directed against the Americans.

Nogales, Sonora, Is Cleaned.
Three hundred Villa soldiers, captured near Nogales, Son., were put to work cleaning up the town and repairing the railroad. The Mexican town presented a scrupulously neat appearance Sunday, in great contrast with that of Saturday.

GEN. JUAN MEDINA TO TAKE CHARGE OF JUAREZ, IS REPORT

Gen. Juan Medina, reported to have declared himself before the United States military authorities in Arizona as withdrawal from Villa's Mexican faction for good and all, is expected in Juarez, where he is to replace Gen. Manuel Ochoa as commander of the garrisoned border city, according to well defined advices with federal authorities here.

The statements that Gen. Medina is to enter northern Mexico again at this point to displace Gen. Ochoa as commander across the river, are denied at the commercial and military headquarters in Juarez, but that he is on his way to assume charge of affairs is emphatically announced in semi-official circles in this city.

MINING MEN'S PROTEST NOT JUSTIFIED, IS CLAIM

Advices with Carrancista view capital Soriano, Sonora, Monday noon, direct from Mexico City, stated that a delegation of mining men had made a strenuous protest against the increased tax on their properties, going into effect March 1, 1915, in connection with a general move south at the Mexican capital and abroad to show that the tax is onerous.

This protest is without foundation, according to news accounts from official sources in Mexico City, as the present tax is 40 pesos for a mining claim equal to 21.2 acres. Anything in excess of that calls for 20 pesos for each less percentage, every percentage being figured as usual at 2.15 acres.

TWO MEXICAN REGIMENTS

FIRE STARTS IN H. R. M'CLINTOCK'S HOME

Fire, caused by shavings and trash being too near the furnace pipe, in the new home of H. R. McClintock, 2807 Bliss street, called out the fire department Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The flames were quickly extinguished and only a slight damage from smoke was sustained by Mr. McClintock. At 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the fire department reported to a blazing culvert on Hastings street in the Government Hill addition. The flames were put out before any real damage to the culvert occurred. It is not known how the fire originated, but it is thought that shavings or kinks built a fire near the culvert and then left it.

Two awnings on the fifth and fourth floors of the Two Republics building, at the corner of Texas street and Mesa avenue, caught fire Sunday afternoon at 12:40 and attracted a big crowd there until the fire department extinguished the burning awnings. It is thought a match was thrown from one of the windows and set fire to the awnings.

A fire in an outbuilding at the home of J. Cisneros, at 514 South El Paso street, called out the department. The damage was small.

HOUSTON HOTEL MAN TO BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT
The hotel men of Houston will travel to El Paso, December 13 and 14, in a special car, for the purpose of presenting to the state association of hotel men the name of Homer D. Matthews for president. They assert that he is the right man for the place from any viewpoint which may be presented, and they especially urge this upon the voters of efficiency and ability. Popularity will also figure, they say, and when it comes to that the friends of Mr. Matthews claim precedence for him in competing with any hotel man anywhere.

Mr. Matthews is manager of the Rice hotel and has been ever since the big house was opened. He has entertained the members of the state organization there collectively and singly and they know his ability as a hotel man better than does the general public.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO INVESTIGATE TIRE PLANT

To investigate the Dry Climate Tire company of Denver, which wishes to establish a $200,000 branch here, S. C. McCurdy and Fred Weckstein, both of Denver, Sunday night with J. Thomas Ward, representing the tire company.

Mr. Ward has been here and has asked the chamber of commerce to assist him in getting a site for the plant and in selling stock for the branch. He announced Saturday that he had succeeded in getting $50,000 in stock subscriptions in El Paso's trade territory and thought he would have no trouble in subscribing the remainder if the chamber of commerce approved of the plan.
